

Tuesday, February 14, 2006

TOY FAIR Times

An Official Toy Industry Association™ Publication

www.toy-tia.org

Made By Hands Art Pops-Out

In keeping with their signature "pop-outs" concept, Made By Hands introduces five new activity kits for 2006. The kits consist of an array of die-cut, geometric and cardboard shapes and are easy for little hands to create with and keep occupied.

The new Made By Hands kits come in sturdy cardboard cases with a handle and include:

- Make-Your-Own Masterpieces (SRP: $18.99) uses Matisse- and Picasso-esque pop-outs so children can create original pieces of artwork. The set comes with three different sized, freestanding easel-back cardboard canvases.

- Make It~Trade It Sports Cards (SRP: $8.99) brings the art of baseball card collecting into the 21st Century with sports themed pop outs that enable children to create their own sport cards to keep or to trade.
- Go Figure! (SRP: $11.99), a new Made By Hands line, consists of three collage-constructing game cards: Crazzzzy Critters, Silly Bodies, and Way to Go. Each game comes with a set of shape cards that players take turns putting together an image their opponents will recognize. Depending on the game version, players try to make a crazy critter, a silly body or transportation mode. The first one to complete their image shouts "Go Figure!"

Visit Made By Hands at the Javits Center, Booth 6313.

